PROXY STATEMENT FOR THE 2012 ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

GENERAL INFORMATION

In this Proxy Statement, Sterling Construction Company, Inc. is sometimes referred to as the Company, and the Board of Directors of the Company is sometimes referred to as the Board. The Company is making this Proxy Statement, the form of proxy and the Company's 2011 Annual Report on Form 10-K available to stockholders starting on March 28, 2012 in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board for the 2012 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The Annual Meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 8, 2012 at 9:00 a.m. local time at The Buttes, A Marriott Resort, 2000 West Westcourt Way, Tempe, AZ 85282.

On March 28, 2012, the Company mailed a Notice of Internet Availability of Proxy Materials (the Availability Notice) to stockholders of record on March 12, 2012 (the Record Date) and posted the proxy materials on the Company's website:

www.SterlingConstructionCo.com

as well as on the website indicated in the Availability Notice:

<http://www.Amstock.com/ProxyServices/ViewMaterial.asp?CoNumber=04770>

The Notice of Availability is being sent to all stockholders of record instead of mailing them a printed copy of the proxy materials, although as stated in the Availability Notice, if you wish to obtain a printed set of the proxy materials, you can do so without charge by requesting a copy by telephone, by e-mail or on either of the web sites listed above, all as described in the Availability Notice. This procedure reduces the amount of paper used and the mailing costs of the proxy solicitation process.

On or about April 9, 2012, the Company plans to mail a second Availability Notice to stockholders that will be accompanied by a proxy card on which you can indicate how you wish your shares to be voted.

The Record Date. The Company has established Monday, March 12, 2012 as the Record Date. The persons or entities whose names appear on the records of the Company as holders of the Company's common stock on the Record Date are entitled to notice of the Annual Meeting and to vote at the Annual Meeting or at any adjournment of the meeting. On the Record Date, there were 16,322,912 shares of the Company's common stock outstanding.

Methods of Voting. As a record holder, you may vote your shares either by coming to the Annual Meeting and voting in person, or by appointing someone to vote your shares for you by giving that person a proxy. In this Proxy Statement, you are being asked to appoint each of Patrick T. Manning, the Company's Chairman & Chief Executive Officer, Elizabeth D. Brumley, the Company's Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer; and Roger M. Barzun, the Company's Senior Vice President & General Counsel as your proxy to vote your shares the way you direct at the Annual Meeting and at any adjournment of the meeting.

Voting by Proxy. Stockholders have the option to vote by proxy in three ways:

- Via the Internet: You can vote via the Internet by accessing the Internet at www.voteproxy.com and following the on-screen instructions, or by following the instructions on the form of proxy sent with the second Availability Notice.
- By telephone: You may call toll-free 1-800-PROXIES (1-800-776-9437) in the United States, or 1-718-921-8500 from foreign countries using a touch-tone telephone and vote by following the instructions given to you. You should have your proxy card with you when you call so that you can input the "Company Number" and the "Account Number" shown on your proxy card when asked to do so.

- By mail: You can obtain a printed copy of the proxy card as described in the Availability Notice; complete, sign, and date it; and then mail it to the Company in the envelope that will be provided to you.

Please refer to the Availability Notice or any information your bank, broker or other holder of record of your shares provides to you for more information on your voting options.

If you vote by proxy, your shares will be voted as you direct if —

- Your proxy is properly completed;
- Your proxy is received by the Company before the Annual Meeting; and
- Your proxy is not revoked by you before the voting.

If you do not specify on your proxy how you want your shares voted, they will be voted in the following way:

FOR the election of three Class II nominees for three-year terms and one Class III nominee for a one-year term (Proposal 1).

FOR the approval of an amendment and restatement of the Company's Stock Incentive Plan (Proposal 2).

FOR the ratification of the selection of Grant Thornton LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for 2012 (Proposal 3).

FOR the advisory approval of the Company's named executive officer compensation for 2011 as set forth in this Proxy Statement (Proposal 4).

The Board does not know of any other proposal that will be presented for consideration at the Annual Meeting.

Revocation of a Proxy. You may revoke a proxy you have already given in any one of the following three ways:

- By sending to the Secretary of the Company, at the Company's address set forth above, a written statement that you wish to revoke your proxy;
- By submitting another proxy dated later than a previous proxy; or
- By attending the Annual Meeting in person and notifying the chairman of the meeting that you wish to vote in person.

Quorum, Vote Required and Method of Counting.

The Quorum for the Meeting. A quorum must be present in order to hold the Annual Meeting. A quorum consists of the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock issued and outstanding on the Record Date. Holders of shares of common stock who are either present at the Annual Meeting in person or through representation by a proxy (including those who abstain from voting or who do not vote on one or more of the proposals) will be counted for purposes of determining whether there is a quorum present at the meeting.

Vote Required. Each share of common stock entitles the record holder to one vote on each of the matters to be voted on at the Annual Meeting.

Proposal 1. The election of a nominee requires that he receives more votes for his election than against his election.

Proposal 2. The approval of the amendment and restatement of the Company's Stock Incentive Plan requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock represented and entitled to vote at the meeting.

Proposal 3. The ratification of the selection of Grant Thornton LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for 2012 requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock represented and entitled to vote at the meeting. See also the information below under the heading Ratification of the Selection of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm (Proposal 3) for the effect of your vote.

Proposal 4. The advisory approval of named executive officer compensation requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the common stock represented and entitled to vote at the meeting.

Method of Counting. The Company will not count as votes cast on a proposal either the shares of stockholders who abstain from voting on that proposal, or the shares held in "street" name by brokers or by nominees who indicate on their proxies that they do not have the discretionary authority to vote the shares on the proposal. The latter are known as broker non-votes.

Proposal 1. The election of a director does not require a minimum number of votes. Therefore, abstentions and broker non-votes will have no effect on the voting for the election of directors.

Proposals 2, 3 & 4. Because the approval of the amendment and restatement of the Company's Stock Incentive Plan; the ratification of the appointment of Grant Thornton LLP; and the advisory approval of named executive officer compensation all require an affirmative vote by the holders of a majority of the shares that make up the meeting's quorum, abstentions and broker non-votes will have the effect of votes against the proposal.

The Solicitation of Proxies and Expenses. In addition to the solicitation of proxies through this Proxy Statement, directors, officers and employees of the Company and, if deemed necessary, a third-party solicitation agent may solicit proxies using personal interviews, telephone calls, facsimile transmissions and e-mail. The Company will request banks, brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries to solicit votes from their customers who are beneficial owners, but not record holders, of common stock, and to forward or make available proxy solicitation materials to those beneficial owners. The Company will reimburse them for the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses they incur in doing so and will pay the expenses of preparing, printing and mailing this Proxy Statement, the form of proxy, the Availability Notice, the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for 2011 and any other solicitation materials.

The 2011 Annual Report. A copy of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, which has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) contains financial statements and other information of interest to stockholders. Stockholders may obtain a copy of the 2011 Annual Report in the same manner as they may obtain a copy of the proxy solicitation materials.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS (Proposal 1)

The Composition of the Board. The Company's Certificate of Incorporation provides for the division of directors into three classes, each class to be as nearly equal in number as reasonably possible. The term of each class is three years, and the terms are staggered so that at each Annual Meeting of Stockholders, the term of one class of directors expires. A director holds office until the expiration of his or her term and until a successor is elected and qualified unless the director dies, resigns or is removed from the Board. In any of those circumstances, the Board has the authority to appoint a replacement. The Bylaws of the Company permit the Board to determine from time to time how many directors the Company will have. The size of the Board is currently set at nine directors.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS THAT STOCKHOLDERS VOTE FOR EACH NOMINEE FOR ELECTION AS A DIRECTOR

Director Independence.

The following table shows the Company's incumbent independent directors at the date of this Proxy Statement and the committees of the Board on which they serve.

Each director listed satisfies the Nasdaq Stock Market's definition of an independent director because none of them have been an employee of the Company within the past three years and none of them or their family members have any connection with the Company other than as directors. No other factors affected the Board's determination that the directors are independent. Each member of the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee and the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee satisfies Nasdaq's independence standards for service on those committees. The members of the Audit Committee also satisfy the independence requirements of the SEC's Regulation §240.10A-3. Independent directors have elected Mr. Hemsley Lead Director.

Independent Directors	Board Committee Assignments
John D. Abernathy	Audit Committee Compensation Committee
Robert A. Eckels	Compensation Committee Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee (Chairman)
Maarten D. Hemsley	Audit Committee Compensation Committee Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee
Richard O. Schaum	Audit Committee Compensation Committee (Chairman)
Milton L. Scott	Audit Committee (Chairman) Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee
David R. A. Steadman	Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee

The Nominees and Continuing Directors.

The following table lists the nominees for election as directors as well as the directors whose terms do not expire at the Annual Meeting. Each of the nominees has stated his willingness to serve if elected. If any nominee is unable to serve, the proxy holders may vote for a substitute nominee. The Board has no reason to believe that any of the nominees will be unable to serve. A proxy cannot be voted by the proxy holders for more persons than the number of nominees named in this Proxy Statement. Information about the number of shares of common stock of the Company owned by the nominees and the continuing directors can be found below under the heading Stock Ownership Information.

Nominees	Current Position	Age	Class	Director Since	Year Term Expires (If elected)
John D. Abernathy	Director	74	II	1994	2015
Richard O. Schaum	Director	65	II	2010	2015
Milton L. Scott	Director	55	II	2005	2015
David R. A. Steadman ⁽¹⁾	Director	74	III	2005	2013

(1) Because Mr. Steadman was elected by the Board in July 2011 to fill a vacancy in Class III directors, he was elected to serve only until the next (2012) Annual Meeting of Stockholders as provided by Company policy. He has been nominated for re-election as a Class III director, the term of which expires in 2013.

Continuing Directors	Age	Class	Director Since	Current Term Expires
Robert A. Eckels	54	I	2010	2014
Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	66	I	2001	2014
Patrick T. Manning	66	I	2001	2014
Maarten D. Hemsley	62	III	1998	2013
Kip L. Wadsworth	46	III	2010	2013

Background of the Nominees.

John D. Abernathy. Mr. Abernathy was Chief Operating Officer of Patton Boggs LLP, a Washington D.C. law firm, from January 1995 through May 2004 when he retired. He was also a director of Par Pharmaceutical Companies, Inc., a New York Stock Exchange-listed company that manufactures generic and specialty drugs, until May 2010, and Neuro-Hitech, Inc., a company that manufactures generic drugs, the shares of which are traded on the over-the-counter market, until March 2010. Mr. Abernathy is a certified public accountant.

Richard O. Schaum. Mr. Schaum has been General Manager of 3rd Horizon Associates LLC, a technology assessment and development company, since May 2003. From October 2003 until June 2005, he was Vice President and General Manager of Vehicle Systems for WaveCrest Laboratories, Inc. and led its vehicle systems development group. Prior to that, for more than thirty years, he was with DaimlerChrysler Corporation, and its predecessor, Chrysler Corporation, most recently, from January 2000 until his retirement in March 2003, as Executive Vice President, Product Development. Mr. Schaum is a fellow of the Society of Automotive Engineers and served as its President from 2007 to 2008. He earned a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from Drexel University and an M.S. in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Michigan. Mr. Schaum is currently a director of BorgWarner Inc., a publicly-traded company that manufactures and sells technologies for engines and drive trains, and Gentex Corporation, a publicly-traded company that manufactures and sells automotive electro-chromic dimming mirrors, windows, camera-based driver assist systems, and commercial fire protection products.

Milton L. Scott. Mr. Scott is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Tagos Group, a strategic advisory and services company in supply chain management, energy efficiency, and international financial advisory and project management. He was previously associated with Complete Energy Holdings, LLC, a company of which he was Managing Director until January 2006 and which he co-founded in January 2004 to acquire, own and operate power generation assets in the United States. From March 2003 to January 2004, Mr. Scott was a Managing Director of The StoneCap Group, an entity formed to acquire, own and operate power generation assets. From October 1999 to November 2002, Mr. Scott served as Executive Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer at Dynegy Inc., a public company in the business of power distribution, marketing and trading of gas, power and other commodities, midstream services and electric distribution. From July 1977 to October 1999, Mr. Scott was a partner with the Houston office of Arthur Andersen LLP, a public accounting firm, where from 1996 to 1999, he served as partner in charge of the Southwest Region Technology and Communications practice. Within the past five years, Mr. Scott was, but is no longer, a director of W-H Energy Services, Inc., which at the time was a publicly-traded company in the oilfield services industry.

David R. A. Steadman. Mr. Steadman was President of Atlantic Management Associates, Inc., a management services firm, from 1988 to 2009. He is a director of Sevcon, Inc., a public company that manufactures electronic controls for electric vehicles and other equipment, and several privately held companies.

Background of the Continuing Directors.

Robert A. Eckels. Mr. Eckels is a member of the Texas-based law firm of Looper, Reed & McCraw, LLC. His practice concentrates on Corporate Law, Finance, Public-Private Partnerships and Homeland Security and Disaster Law. Before joining Looper, Reed, from March 2009 through March 2011, Mr. Eckels operated his own independent legal practice. From March 2007 through March 2009, Mr. Eckels was a partner in the international law firm of Fulbright & Jaworski, LLP. For twelve years before joining Fulbright & Jaworski, from January 1995 to March 2007, Mr. Eckels was County Judge of Harris County, Texas, which includes the city of Houston, as well as Chairman of the Harris County Toll Road Authority. As Harris County Judge, Mr. Eckels was the presiding officer of the Commissioners Court, which is the governing body of the county, and was responsible for the executive, legislative and judicial functions of a county of nearly four million residents. Mr. Eckels has also served on several boards and councils in the Houston-Galveston region, as well as on state boards and commissions and federal advisory commissions. He serves as a member and chair of the Texas County and District Retirement System board, a governor-appointed, non-paid board, with responsibility for the oversight of a more than $18 billion public pension fund. Mr. Eckels is also President of Texas Central High-Speed Rail, LLC, a high-speed rail development company linking the Texas Triangle cities of Houston, Dallas/Fort Worth and Austin/San Antonio. From January 1983 to January 1995, Mr. Eckels served as a member of the Texas House of Representatives. Mr. Eckels received a B.S. degree from the University of Houston, a J.D. degree from South Texas College of Law and is a member of the bar in Texas, New York, Colorado and the District of Columbia.

Joseph P. Harper, Sr. Mr. Harper has been employed by Texas Sterling Construction Co. (TSC) since 1972. He was Chief Financial Officer of TSC for approximately 25 years until August 2004, when he became Treasurer of TSC. In addition to his financial responsibilities, Mr. Harper has performed both estimating and project management functions. Mr. Harper has been a director and the Company's President and Chief Operating Officer since July 2001, and in May 2006 was elected Treasurer. Mr. Harper is a certified public accountant.

Patrick T. Manning. Mr. Manning joined the predecessor of TSC, in 1971 and led its move from Detroit, Michigan into the Houston market in 1978. He has been TSC's President and Chief Executive Officer since 1998 and Chairman of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer of the Company since July 2001. Mr. Manning has served on a variety of construction industry committees, including the Gulf Coast Trenchless Association and the Houston Contractors' Association, where he served as a member of the board of directors and as President from 1987 to 1993. He attended Michigan State University from 1969 to 1972.

Maarten D. Hemsley. Mr. Hemsley served as the Company's President and Chief Operating Officer from 1988 until 2001, and as its Chief Financial Officer from 1998 until August 2007. From January 2001 until March 31, 2012, when he will retire, Mr. Hemsley was a consultant to, or employee of, Harwood Capital LLP ("Harwood") (formerly JO Hambro Capital Management Limited) an investment management company based in the United Kingdom. During that period Mr. Hemsley served as a Fund Manager, Senior Fund Manager and Senior Advisor to several investment funds managed by Harwood. Mr. Hemsley is a director of Sevcon, Inc., a U.S. public company that manufactures electronic controls for electric vehicles and other equipment, and of a number of privately-held companies in the United Kingdom. Mr. Hemsley is a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales.

Kip L. Wadsworth. Mr. Wadsworth has been employed by Ralph L. Wadsworth Construction Company, LLC (RLW) since January 1980. The Company acquired an 80% interest in RLW in December 2009. From 1980 to October 1991, Mr. Wadsworth served variously as Carpenter, Foreman, Superintendent, Project Manager and Estimator on many bridge and heavy highway construction projects. In October 1991 he was appointed General Manager of RLW, and served in that capacity until December 2001, when he was named President and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Wadsworth has served on a variety of construction industry committees, including the board of directors of the Utah Chapter of the Associated General Contractors and the board of directors of the Associated Concrete Paving Association.

Experience, Qualifications, Attributes and Skills of Nominees and Directors.

The following describes the basis on which the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee has concluded that the incumbent directors (listed alphabetically below) some of whom are nominees, should continue to serve as directors of the Company. As more fully described below in the section entitled Nomination of Directors under the heading Board Operations, the Committee typically does not look for a specific experience, qualification, attribute or skill in nominating a director for election or re-election, but rather tries to find a person whose overall combination of those factors would enable him or her to make valuable contributions to the Board.

Mr. Abernathy has extensive financial and accounting experience as well as leadership skills that he has gained as a member and later as Chairman and Chief Executive Partner of BDO Seidman, a public accounting firm, and from nine years as Chief Operating Officer of a major Washington, D.C. law firm. On the Board, the breadth and depth of his experience allows him to play an important role as one of the Board's Audit Committee Financial Experts. He has been a director of two other public companies for more than five years, as described above in his biographical data, and that hands-on experience enables him to provide valuable contributions and insights into corporate governance matters.

Mr. Eckels has a long and distinguished background in the public sector as well as broad experience and a strong interest in transportation matters. These are two areas in which other directors have no particular experience or expertise and ones which enable Mr. Eckels to assist the Board as the Company seeks to expand its business into design-build, CM/GC (construction manager/general contractor) and other project delivery methods, which are alternatives to the traditional fixed unit price, low bid process, and in which success is based not only on bid price, but also on reputation, marketing and quality. In addition, Mr. Eckels's knowledge and experience described in his biographical data help the Board oversee the Company's efforts to bid successfully on the kind of large, transportation infrastructure projects on which it has worked in the past.

Mr. Harper has more than thirty-five years of experience in heavy civil construction with the Company. His operational skills combined with financial acumen developed as chief financial officer for many years enable him as a director to aid the Board in making assessments and decisions about the Company's annual budgets, its capital expenditures, and cash management; to assess the risks of entry into new types of construction projects; and to evaluate the strategic direction of the Company's acquisition program.

Mr. Hemsley has extensive financial experience and managerial skills gained over many years as chief financial officer of the Company for thirteen years and as its President for seven years; through his recent position managing investment funds; and his responsibilities during his career as chief financial officer of several medium-sized public and private companies in a variety of business sectors in the U.S. and Europe. His knowledge of the Company derived from more than twenty years' service, as well as his analytical skills honed as a fund manager in making investment decisions and overseeing the management of a wide range of portfolio companies, enable him to contribute to the Board's oversight of the Company's business, its financial risks, its executive compensation arrangements, the risks inherent in its acquisition program, and in post-acquisition integration issues.

Mr. Manning has more than thirty-five years of experience in heavy civil construction with the Company as well as interpersonal and public relations skills he has developed from service for many years on the construction industry committees referred to in his biographical data. That experience and those skills are not only critical at the day-to-day operating level, but also at the Board level, where oversight of the Company's business, its growth, its entry into new types of construction projects, its long-term strategy and its overall risks are important.

Mr. Schaum has extensive executive and management experience at all levels in a Fortune 100 company, and knowledge of, and interest in, corporate governance matters, gained on the board of a Fortune 500 company. In addition, his technical background and his operating experience at all levels of management contribute to the breadth and depth of the Board's deliberations.

Mr. Scott has many years of experience as an audit partner at a large public accounting firm; leadership, managerial and corporate governance skills acquired during his tenure as a senior executive at a Fortune 500 company; and entrepreneurial skills developed through the founding of several companies in the energy and service sectors. He has also served as a chief executive officer of private companies and as a lead director at a public company. Mr. Scott's background and experience enable him to bring to the Board and its deliberations a broad range and combination of valuable insights as well as leadership skills, particularly in his role as Chairman of the Board's Audit Committee.

Mr. Steadman. Mr. Steadman has broad experience in operations, management, investment, technology, corporate governance and leadership. This experience has been gained from service as vice president of a Fortune 500 company in both technical and investment areas of its business, and as chief executive officer, chairman, or both, of a semiconductor production equipment company, a designer and manufacturer of air pollution control equipment, an aircraft software maintenance company, a hotel management company, a textile converting company and as noted in his biographical data, a publicly-traded electronic controls manufacturing company. In the course of his career, Mr. Steadman has participated as a member and frequently as chairman of audit, compensation and corporate governance committees. This varied background and experience at both the operational and board level in small, medium-sized and large businesses, both public and private, enable Mr. Steadman to provide to the Board insights and advice on the broad variety of situations and issues that the Board faces.

Mr. Wadsworth has almost thirty years of experience at RLW in heavy civil construction at all levels of the business, starting as a carpenter and rising to Chief Executive Officer. His more recent experience in design-build joint venture projects brings to the Board experience, knowledge and judgments that assist the Board as it reviews and oversees the entry of the Company's other offices into design-build projects. Mr. Wadsworth also serves the Board as a valuable link with RLW's business and other senior management personnel.

AMENDMENT AND RESTATEMENT OF THE COMPANY'S STOCK INCENTIVE PLAN (Proposal 2)

Introduction. The proposed amendment and restatement of the Company's Stock Incentive Plan does not increase the number of shares issuable under the Plan. The ten-year term of the Plan would have expired on July 23, 2011 had the Board of Directors not adopted an amendment of the Plan on May 6, 2011 to extend the Plan's term for another ten years, subject to stockholder approval. At the same time, the Board decided to further amend and to restate the Plan to reflect changes in tax and other laws since the Plan's adoption in 2001, and to change its name by deleting the reference to the year 2001. The Stock Incentive Plan is the Company's only plan under which shares of common stock may be issued.

Plan Shares. As noted above, the amendment and restatement does not change the 1,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock, $0.01 par value per share, issuable under the Plan. The number of shares is subject to automatic adjustment in the event of a stock split or stock combination. At March 1, 2012, there were 52,100 shares subject to issuance under outstanding stock options granted under the Plan, and 425,771 shares available for issuance under the Plan. Shares granted under options that expire unexercised and shares subject to restricted stock awards that are forfeited are returned to the Plan and are available for future grants and awards. On March 1, 2012, the closing price of the Company's common stock on The NASDAQ Global Select Market was $10.27 per share. The sale of the Plan shares has been registered on Form S-8 with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Plan Summary. The following is a summary of the material features of the Plan as amended. The summary is qualified in its entirety by the full text of the Plan, a copy of which is available for review at the principal executive offices of the Company and will be furnished to any stockholder without charge upon written request to Elizabeth D. Brumley, Chief Financial Officer, at 20810 Fernbush Lane, Houston, Texas 77073.

Purpose. The purpose of the Plan is to advance the interests of the Company's stockholders by enhancing the Company's ability to attract, retain and motivate persons who make, or are expected to make important contributions to the Company by providing those persons with opportunities for equity ownership and performance-based incentives, and thereby to better align the interests of those persons with the interests of the Company's stockholders. Unless further extended, the Plan expires on May 6, 2021.

Eligibility. Eligible participants include—

- The approximately 1,600 employees of the Company and its subsidiaries, of whom six are officers of the Company and three are directors of the Company;
- The Company's six non-employee directors; and
- Consultants and advisors of the Company.

On the date the Board adopted the amendment and restatement of the Plan, participants in the Plan consisted of six independent directors of the Company, one director who is an officer of a subsidiary of the Company, six officers of the Company (two of whom are also directors) and approximately sixteen employees of the Company and its subsidiaries who are neither directors nor officers of the Company. No new awards under the Plan have been made that are subject to stockholder approval of the amendment and restatement of the Plan.

Administration. The Plan is administered by the Board of Directors, which has the authority to adopt, amend and repeal administrative rules, guidelines and practices relating to the Plan, and to interpret its provisions. So long as the Company's common stock is registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Board of Directors is required to delegate the administration of the Plan to the Board's Compensation Committee, which is made up of four independent directors.

Stock Options. The Plan provides for the grant of incentive stock options intended to qualify under Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code as well as non-statutory stock options.

The Committee establishes and specifies the exercise price under an option in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations; the time or times at which the Option is exercisable; and the term of the option. Options are currently granted at an exercise price equal to the closing price of the common stock on the date of the grant. Options granted under the Plan typically will vest over time and can be exercised no more than ten years after the date of the grant. No consideration is payable to the Company for the grant of a stock option.

Restricted Stock Awards. The Committee may make awards entitling the recipient to acquire shares of Common Stock subject to the right of the Company to repurchase from the recipient all or some of such shares at their issue price or other stated or formula price, or may make awards without requiring any payment therefor that are subject to forfeiture of the shares covered by the award in the event that conditions specified by the Committee in the award agreement are not satisfied prior to the end of a restriction period or periods established for the award.

Other Awards. The Committee also has the right to make any other awards of, and based on, the Company's common stock having terms and conditions that the Committee determines, including the grant of shares based upon certain conditions, the grant of securities convertible into common stock, and the grant of stock appreciation rights.

Amendment of Grants and Awards. The Board may amend or terminate any outstanding grant or award by substituting another award of the same or a different type; by changing the date of exercise or realization; and/or by converting an incentive stock option into a non-statutory stock option. The grant or award holder must consent to the amendment or termination unless the Board determines that it would not materially and adversely affect the holder.

Calendar Year Per-Participant Limitation. In order to comply with current tax laws, the Company amended the per-participant limitations as follows:

- The maximum number of shares of the Company's common stock subject to options granted to any one participant in any calendar year was reduced from 350,000 to 100,000.
- The maximum number of shares of the Company's common stock which may be subject to restricted stock awards made to any one participant in any calendar year may not exceed 100,000. This is a limitation not found in the Plan prior to the amendment.
- The Plan provides a new maximum amount of any other compensation that may be paid to any participant pursuant to any grants or awards under the Plan in any calendar year. A grant or award —
 - may not exceed the fair market value of 100,000 shares of the Company's common stock if the compensation under the award is denominated under the award agreement only in terms of shares of common stock, or a multiple of the fair market value per share of common stock; or
 - in all other cases, may not exceed $1,000,000.

Amendment of Plan. The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Plan and will seek stockholder approval of an amendment if required in order to comply with any applicable tax or regulatory requirements. Amendments that require stockholder approval become effective when adopted by the Board assuming stockholder approval is obtained.

Federal Income Tax Information. Set forth below is a general summary of the federal income tax consequences to the Company and to recipients of grants and awards under the Plan. The following summary is not intended to be exhaustive; it does not address certain special federal tax provisions; and it does not address state, municipal or foreign tax laws.

Tax Treatment of Non-Statutory Stock Options. Under Section 83 of the Internal Revenue Code, optionees realize no taxable income when a non-statutory stock option is granted to them. Instead, the difference between the fair market value of the stock on the date of exercise and the option price paid is taxed as ordinary compensation income as of the date of exercise if the stock is not subject at that time to a "substantial risk of forfeiture," as defined in Section 83.

The Company receives no tax deduction on the grant of a non-statutory stock option, but is entitled to a tax deduction when the optionee recognizes taxable income on or after exercise of the option in the same amount as the income recognized by the optionee.

Tax Treatment of Incentive Stock Options. Under Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code, an optionee incurs no federal income tax liability on either the grant or exercise of an incentive stock option. Provided that the stock is held for at least one year after the date of exercise of the option and at least two years after its date of grant, any gain realized on the subsequent sale of the stock will be taxed as long term capital gain. If the stock is disposed of within a shorter period, the optionee will be taxed, with respect to the gain realized, as if he or she had then received ordinary compensation income in an amount equal to the difference between the fair market value of the stock on the date of exercise of the option and its fair market value on the date on which the option was granted, but the Company has no tax withholding obligation. The balance of the gain realized will be taxed as capital gain, long term or short term depending on the holding period since the date of exercise.

The Company receives no tax deduction on the grant or exercise of an incentive stock option, but is entitled to a tax deduction if the optionee recognizes ordinary compensation income on account of a premature disposition of stock under an incentive stock option in the same amount and at the same time as the optionee recognizes income.

Tax Treatment of Stock Awards.

- An employee who receives an award of stock generally will recognize taxable income at the time the stock is received equal to the value of the stock (less the purchase price, if any) and the applicable tax will be withheld by the Company from the employee.
- An employee who receives an award of restricted stock (that is, stock that is subject to one or more restrictions) generally will not recognize taxable income at the time the stock is received, but will recognize taxable income when the restrictions terminate or lapse.

The taxable income recognized when the restrictions terminate or lapse is equal to the fair market value of the stock at that date less the amount, if any, that the employee paid for the restricted stock.

The currently-required withholding by the Company is 25% of the taxable income recognized by the employee.

The Board recommends a vote FOR the approval of the amendment and restatement of the Plan.

RATIFICATION OF THE SELECTION OF THE INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM (Proposal 3)

Pursuant to its charter, the Audit Committee is directly responsible for the appointment of the Company's Auditors. The Audit Committee has selected Grant Thornton LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm to perform the audit of the Company's financial statements for 2012. Grant Thornton was also the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for the year ended December 31, 2011.

The Committee may select an independent registered public accounting firm at any time during the year if it determines that to do so would be in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. The Board is asking stockholders to ratify the selection of Grant Thornton as a matter of good corporate practice, although ratification is not required by law or by the Company's Bylaws, and the vote is not binding on the Committee.

The ratification of the selection of Grant Thornton requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of shares of common stock represented and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting. There is additional information about Grant Thornton, below, under the heading Information About Audit Fees and Audit Services.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS THAT STOCKHOLDERS VOTE FOR THE RATIFICATION OF THE SELECTION OF GRANT THORNTON LLP.

ADVISORY APPROVAL OF THE COMPANY'S NAMED EXECUTIVE OFFICER COMPENSATION (Proposal 4)

Current SEC regulations require the Company to solicit a stockholder vote on the approval of the compensation of the named executive officers who are listed below in the section entitled The Executive Officers under heading Executive Compensation. This advisory vote, as described below, is commonly referred to as say-on-pay. The vote is not binding on the Company. At the 2011 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, holders of 80% of the shares present in person or represented by proxy voted in accordance with the Company's recommendation to hold a say-on-pay vote annually, and the Company intends to do so.

In determining how to vote on Proposal 4, stockholders should take into account all of the disclosures in this Proxy Statement that relate to the compensation of executives, which are provided in this Proxy Statement pursuant to Securities and Exchange Commission rules and regulations. That information is set forth below under the heading Executive Compensation. The information includes tables of compensation and stock option data, as well as an explanation of why and how the types and levels of compensation of the named executive officers have been determined.

The Company's executive compensation structure is designed to pay executives for the day-to-day work they perform, to give them an incentive to make extra efforts to maximize the Company's profits, and to encourage them to remain with the Company, all of which, the Company believes, further the interests of stockholders.

Compensation consists of salary and incentive compensation. The compensation structure is embodied in multi-year employment agreements because the Compensation Committee believes that they provide stability and predictability in compensation matters, benefiting both the executive and the Company.

At the Annual Meeting, stockholders will have the opportunity to vote for, against, or to abstain from voting on the approval of executive compensation.

In the event that stockholders do not approve executive compensation, the Compensation Committee of the Board will review its decisions on compensation structure and levels as well as the comparability of executives' compensation to that of a peer group before deciding whether to make any changes in executive compensation. It should be noted that with multi-year employment agreements, changes can only be made with the consent of the executive or after the term of the agreement expires.

The affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of common stock represented and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is required to approve executive compensation.

THE BOARD RECOMMENDS THAT STOCKHOLDERS VOTE FOR THE APPROVAL OF EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

BOARD OPERATIONS

Communicating with the Board. Interested persons wishing to communicate with the Board about their concerns, questions or other matters may do so by U.S. Mail addressed to:

Board of Directors
% The Secretary
Sterling Construction Company, Inc.
20810 Fernbush Lane
Houston, TX 77073.

The Secretary will give these communications to the directors as they are received unless they are frivolous or if they are voluminous, in which case the Secretary will, instead, summarize them and furnish the summary to the directors.

The Board's Leadership Structure.

The Company's Board of Directors has a Chairman and a Lead Director. To date, the Chairman has also been the Chief Executive Officer of the Company and in recent years the Board has appointed one of the independent directors Lead Director.

On February 16, 2012, the Company announced, among other things, that the Board has decided to separate the roles of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer and as a result has launched a search for a new chief executive. When a new chief executive officer has been elected, the current chief executive will assist in the transition to his successor and in the selection of a replacement for the Company's President and Chief Operating Officer, who will retire when his contract terminates at the end of 2012. The Chairman will continue to chair Board and stockholder meetings, but will have no operating responsibilities.

As in the past, the Lead Director, currently Mr. Hemsley, will plan the agenda and chair meetings of the independent directors, who constitute a majority of the Board. Meetings of independent directors are held in conjunction with regularly-scheduled meetings of the whole Board and at other times as the need arises. As a member of each of the Board's standing committees, the Lead Director provides continuity, consistency, transparency and oversight in financial, compensation and governance matters.

The Company believes that this new Board structure is appropriate at this time for several reasons. The Board and its current Chief Executive Officer, Patrick T. Manning, who is 66 and nearing retirement age, wish to support his successor in the transition to a new chief executive. In addition, the Board has recognized that it is a growing corporate governance trend among publicly-traded companies to separate the roles of chairman and chief executive and wishes to conform to that trend.

The Board's Risk Oversight.

The Board exercises oversight of the Company's risks through its three standing committees and through working together as a group.

The Audit Committee is primarily responsible for matters relating to financial risk. The Committee holds regularly-scheduled, quarterly, in-person meetings at which it reviews materials supplied to it in advance, and receives oral reports on a variety of matters, including the Company's operations and the condition of its markets, its SEC filings and related press releases, its internal controls, its independent auditing firm, the independent audit of its internal controls environment, its related party transactions, the Company's compliance with the financial requirements of its line of credit agreement, the investment of cash reserves, whistleblower reports, and financial and accounting consultants, if any. Whistleblower reports are collected by an independent organization specializing in those services and are conveyed to the Chairman of the Audit Committee and to the Company's General Counsel. The Committee also holds special meetings when circumstances make it advisable to do so. Other directors are invited to attend meetings of the Audit Committee.

The Compensation Committee is responsible, among other things, for identifying risks that could be affected by compensation arrangements and for assessing the extent of those risks. More information about compensation arrangements and risk can be found below in the section entitled Compensation Policies and Practices — Risk Management under the heading Executive Compensation.

The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee is primarily responsible for overseeing risks that can arise from matters of corporate governance by ensuring the independence of directors, assessing the qualifications of nominees for director, and assisting in the development of a clear and comprehensive Board and management succession plan.

Board members receive a monthly so-called flash report that keeps them current on financial matters and factors vital to the Company's business. The Board also holds five regularly-scheduled meetings a year at which it receives reports from executive management on financial and operating results, as well as on current business activities, future business opportunities, potential acquisitions, and risk assessment. In addition, independent directors of the Company meet in executive session at least quarterly and often more frequently to discuss matters affecting the management of the Company and any perceived problems or risks associated with the Company's business and management.

Nomination of Directors. The Board's Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee has the responsibility, among others, to identify and recommend to the Board the nomination by independent directors of qualified candidates for election to the Board.

On January 17, 2012, the Committee voted to recommend to the Board the nomination of Messrs. Abernathy, Schaum, Scott and Steadman for re-election to the Board. Their current terms of office expire at the Annual Meeting.

The term of newly-elected Class II directors will expire at the 2015 Annual Meeting of Stockholders; the term of Class I directors will expire at the 2014 Annual Meeting; and the term of Class III directors will expire at the 2013 Annual Meeting. Information about the background and qualifications of the nominees is set forth above in the sections entitled Background of Nominees and Experience, Qualifications, Attributes and Skills of Nominees and Directors under the heading Election of Directors (Proposal 1).

The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee seeks to achieve a Board that is composed of individuals who have experience that is relevant to the needs of the Company, who have a high level of professional and personal ethics, and who contribute to the diversity of the Board as defined in its charter. The Committee looks for candidates with experience in the construction industry and/or in engineering/transportation, finance and accounting, financial reporting, investment, corporate governance, senior management and public sector matters. The Committee also considers other factors, such as race, gender, geographical representation and other skills and experience that can bring cognitive diversity to the Board and thereby lead to better decisions and solutions. In 2009, when the Board believed it needed additional independent members, an analysis was done by preparing a chart that showed each incumbent director's experience and strengths in order to determine where gaps existed. In that manner, the Board's make-up was balanced and a degree of diversity achieved. Given the Company's size, however, the Committee realized that it is difficult to achieve broad diversity. When it is determined that replacement directors or additional directors are needed, the Committee expects to go through a similar process and in so doing, will be able to assess whether it has achieved the diversity that was sought. Candidates are expected to be committed to enhancing shareholder value and to have sufficient time to carry out the duties of a director, both on the Board as a whole and on one or more of its standing committees.

The Committee has not specified any minimum qualifications for serving on the Board. The Committee has also not established a policy regarding the consideration of director candidates recommended by stockholders, primarily because the Company has not received recommendations of that kind for more than the last ten years. If a stockholder wishes to recommend a person as a director candidate, the stockholder may follow the procedure for communicating with the Board that is described above in the section entitled Communicating with the Board. The Committee would evaluate any candidate recommended by a stockholder in the same manner as any other candidate. Recommendations of candidates for nomination for the 2013 Annual Meeting of Stockholders must be received by the date set forth below under the heading Submission of Stockholder Proposals.

The Committee uses a variety of methods for identifying and evaluating nominees for director. Candidates may come to the attention of the Committee through current members of the Board, Company management and employees, professional search firms, stockholders and other persons, but in any event, the Committee conducts independent evaluations of candidates and requires and checks references before recommending a candidate for election.

Election of Directors by Majority Vote. In order to be elected a director, a nominee needs to receive more votes for his or her election than against it. A director is elected for a specific term and until his or her successor is elected and qualified. This means that an incumbent director who is nominated for re-election, but fails to receive a majority vote, would still remain a director because no successor had been elected. To cure this problem, each incumbent director, as a precondition to being nominated for re-election, must, in advance of the Annual Meeting, submit a resignation that becomes effective if he or she does not receive the required vote and the Board accepts the resignation. The Board has the option to accept or not accept the resignation based on the recommendation of the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee.

Directors' Attendance at Meetings in 2011. The Board held twenty in-person and telephone conference call meetings during 2011, some of which were meetings of independent directors only. Each incumbent independent director and each incumbent non-independent director attended more than 75% of the meetings of the Board he was eligible to attend. Each incumbent director also attended all of the meetings of the standing committees of the Board on which he served during 2011. All incumbent directors also attended last year's Annual Meeting of Stockholders in person. The Company's policy is to schedule the Annual Meeting of Stockholders to coincide with a regular Board meeting so that directors can attend the Annual Meeting without the Company incurring extra travel and related expenses.

Committees of the Board. The Board has the following three standing committees:

- The Audit Committee
- The Compensation Committee
- The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee

The Board also establishes special-purpose, or ad hoc, committees as the need arises.

The Audit Committee. The members of the Audit Committee are Milton L. Scott, Chairman, John D. Abernathy, Maarten D. Hemsley and Richard O. Schaum. The Board has determined that Messrs. Abernathy and Scott are Audit Committee Financial Experts based on the definition of that term contained in applicable regulations. Their backgrounds are described above under the heading Election of Directors (Proposal 1). The Audit Committee meets at least quarterly and held four meetings in 2011. The Audit Committee has a charter and it is posted on the Company's website at www.SterlingConstructionCo.com.

The Audit Committee assists the Board in fulfilling its responsibility to oversee the Company's accounting and financial reporting processes and the audits by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, which is referred to in its charter as the independent auditors. In particular, the Audit Committee has the responsibility to —

- Review financial reports and other financial information, internal accounting and financial controls, controls and procedures relating to public disclosure of information, and the audit of the Company's financial statements by the Company's independent auditors;
- Appoint independent auditors, approve their compensation, supervise their work, oversee their independence and evaluate their qualifications and performance;
- Review with management and the independent auditors the audited and interim financial statements that are included in filings with the SEC;
- Review the quality of the Company's accounting policies;
- Review with management major financial risk exposures;
- Review and discuss with management the Company's policies with respect to press releases on earnings and earnings guidance, including the use of pro forma information;
- Review all proposed transactions between the Company and related parties in which the amount involved exceeds $100,000; and
- Provide for the confidential, anonymous submission by employees and others of concerns regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters.

The Audit Committee Report. In fulfillment of its responsibilities, the Audit Committee has —

- Reviewed, and met and discussed with management and with the Company's independent registered public accounting firm the Company's 2011 audited consolidated financial statements;
- Discussed with the independent auditors the matters required to be discussed by the statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended (AICPA, Professional Standards, Vol. 1. AU section 380) as adopted by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board in Rule 3200T;
- Received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent accountant required by applicable requirements of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board regarding the independent accountant's communications with the audit committee concerning independence, and has discussed with the independent accountant the independent accountant's independence; and
- Based and in reliance on the foregoing review and discussions, recommended to the Board, and the Board has approved the inclusion of the Company's audited consolidated financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011 for filing with the SEC.

Maarten D. Hemsley
Richard O. Schaum

The Compensation Committee. The members of the Compensation Committee are Richard O. Schaum, Chairman, John D. Abernathy, Robert A. Eckels, and Maarten D. Hemsley. The Compensation Committee held twelve meetings in 2011. The Compensation Committee has a charter and it is posted on the Company's website at www.SterlingConstructionCo.com.

The Compensation Committee has the responsibility —

- To determine the compensation of the Company's executive officers and other officers elected by the Board and to review their personal goals and objectives.

- To review and make recommendations on the compensation of the officers of the Company's subsidiaries.
- To administer the Company's stock plans, to approve grants of stock options and/or awards of stock under the plans and to make such determinations and decisions on those matters as may be required.
- To review and make recommendations on the Company's benefit plans.
- To evaluate risks that arise from the Company's compensation policies and practices.
- To review and advise the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee on the compensation of non-employee directors.
- To fix the compensation of non-employee directors who serve on ad hoc committees of the Board.
- To review and discuss with Management the Company's Compensation Discussion and Analysis, and based on that review and those discussions, determine whether to recommend that it be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K.

In exercising its authority and carrying out its responsibilities, the Committee meets to discuss the executive compensation structure, proposed employment agreements, salaries, and cash and equity incentive awards based on information circulated in advance of the meeting by the Chairman of the Committee. This information may include salaries of comparable officers in comparable companies in the construction industry and the Company's financial results for the year on which the incentive awards are based. The Committee may not delegate any of its responsibilities, but may share them with other independent directors. The Committee discusses an executive officer's compensation in advance of making a decision on it. For a description of the compensation of executives of the Company and of other senior officers, see the information below under the heading Executive Compensation.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation.

During 2011, John D. Abernathy, Donald P. Fusilli, Jr. (who resigned as a director in February 2011) Maarten D. Hemsley, and Richard O. Schaum served on the Compensation Committee. None of these Compensation Committee members is, or within the last four years has been, an officer or employee of the Company.

None of the Company's executive officers served as a director or member of the compensation committee, or of any other committee serving an equivalent function, of any other entity that has an executive officer who is serving or during 2011 served as a director or member of the Compensation Committee of the Company.

The Compensation Committee Report.

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors has reviewed and discussed with management the Compensation Discussion and Analysis set forth below under the heading Executive Compensation. Based on that review and those discussions, the Compensation Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in the Company's proxy statement on Schedule 14A.

The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee. The members of the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee are Robert A. Eckels, Chairman, Maarten D. Hemsley, Milton L. Scott, and David R. A. Steadman. The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee held five meetings in 2011. The Company has adopted a Code of Business Conduct & Ethics that complies with SEC rules and applies to all of the officers and in-house counsel of the Company and its subsidiaries. Both the Committee's charter and the Code are posted on the Company's website at www.SterlingConstructionCo.com.

The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee assists the Board in fulfilling its responsibility for corporate governance and in particular has the responsibility to —

- Develop and recommend to the Board appropriate corporate governance principles and rules;
- Recommend appropriate policies and procedures to ensure the effective functioning of the Board;
- Identify and recommend to the Board qualified nominees for election by stockholders to the Board;
- Recommend directors for membership on Board committees;
- Develop and make recommendations to the Board regarding standards and processes for determining the independence of directors under applicable laws, rules and regulations;
- Develop and oversee the operation of an orientation program for new directors and determine whether and what form and level of continuing education for directors is appropriate;
- Periodically review the Company's Code of Business Conduct & Ethics and its Insider Trading Policy to ensure that they remain responsive both to legal requirements and to the nature and size of the business; and
- With the advice of the Chairman of the Compensation Committee, make recommendations to the Board for the remuneration of non-employee directors, and of members of the Company's standing committees and their chairpersons.

Director Compensation.

Set forth below is a table showing the compensation paid to non-employee directors for 2011 who served during 2011. The Company does not pay any additional compensation for serving on the Board of Directors to directors who are employees of the Company or its affiliates, namely Messrs. Manning, Harper and Wadsworth.*

None of the Company's non-employee directors received any other compensation for any service provided to the Company. All directors are reimbursed for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending meetings of the Board and Board committees.

The amounts in the table include annual retainer fees, chairmanship fees and meeting fees. All dollar amounts are rounded to the nearest dollar. For information about each of these fees, see the table in the section entitled Standard Director Compensation Arrangements, below.

* The shares are subject to the following basic terms:

Restrictions: The shares may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged or otherwise disposed of until they vest as described below. In addition, as a condition to the award, the director must agree that so long as he is a director of the Company, he will retain and not sell or otherwise dispose of at least that number of shares of the Company's common stock that have been awarded to him as director compensation that is equal in market value to the sum of the cash fees paid to him in the previous two calendar years.

Vesting: Vesting of the restricted stock (lapse of the restrictions) occurs on the trading day immediately preceding the following year's Annual Meeting of Stockholders, but earlier upon the death or permanent disability of the director; and upon a change in control of the Company.

Forfeiture: The restricted stock is forfeited in the event that prior to vesting, the director ceases to be a director other than by reason of his death, permanent disability or a change in control of the Company.

The restrictions for the May 6, 2011 award of 3,418 shares to each non-employee director expire on May 7, 2012, the day before the 2012 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

STOCK OWNERSHIP INFORMATION

Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management. The following table sets forth certain information at March 1, 2012 about the beneficial ownership of shares of the Company's common stock by each person or entity known to the Company to own beneficially more than 5% of the outstanding shares of common stock; by each nominee and incumbent director; and by each executive officer named below in the section entitled Summary Compensation Table for 2011 under the heading Executive Compensation; and by all directors and executive officers as a group. The Company has no other class of equity securities outstanding.

Based on information furnished by the beneficial owners, the Company believes that those owners have sole investment and voting power over the shares of common stock shown as beneficially owned by them, except as stated otherwise in the footnotes to the table.

Rule 13d-3(d)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires that the percentages listed in the following table assume for each person or group the acquisition of all shares that the person or group can acquire within sixty days of March 1, 2012 (for instance by the exercise of a stock option) but not the acquisition of the shares that can be acquired in that period by any other person or group listed.

Except for the entities listed below, the address of each beneficial owner is the address of the Company.

In its filing, FMR LLC states that Fidelity Low-Priced Stock Fund, an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, holds all of these shares, but that various persons have the right to receive or the power to direct the receipt of dividends from, or the proceeds from the sale of these shares.
(5) BlackRock, Inc.	February 8, 2012	908,063	—	908,063	—
In its filing, BlackRock states that various persons have the right to receive or the power to direct the receipt of dividends from, or the proceeds from the sale of the common stock of the Company and that no one person's interest in the common stock of the Company is more than five percent of the total outstanding common shares.

- (6) This number includes 3,418 restricted shares of the Company's common stock awarded to this non-employee director as described above in the section entitled Director Compensation under the heading Board Operations. The restrictions expire on May 7, 2012, the day preceding the 2012 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, but earlier if the director dies or becomes disabled or if there is a change in control of the Company. The shares are forfeited before the expiration of the restrictions if the director ceases to be a director other than because of his death or disability or a change in control of the Company.
- (7) This number includes 12,000 shares held by Mr. Harper as custodian for his grandchildren.
- (8) This number excludes shares owned by the Maarten and Mavis Hemsley Family Foundation.
- (9) All of these shares have been pledged as security.
- (10) These shares are subject to restrictions that prevent their sale or other transfer that lapse on December 31, 2012, but earlier if Mr. Wadsworth dies or becomes disabled, if his employment is terminated without cause, or if there is a change in control of the Company. The restricted shares are forfeited in the event that prior to vesting, Mr. Wadsworth resigns or his employment is terminated for cause.
- (11) This number includes 6,079 shares that are held in a trust of which Mr. Manning is a trustee and beneficiary.
- (12) See the footnotes above for a description of certain of the shares included in this total.

Policies Regarding Company Stock. The Company has a policy that prohibits directors, executive officers, officers of the Company's majority-owned subsidiaries, and any employee of the Company or its subsidiaries to whom capital stock of the Company is awarded from hedging the value of the common stock they hold. The Company also has a policy that prohibits the sale or pledging of Company common stock if after giving effect to the sale or pledge, the market value of the number of unpledged shares of common stock of the Company then held by the employee would be less than two times his or her annualized base salary, in the case of an executive officer of the Company, and less than one times his or her annualized base salary in the case of an officer of a majority-owned subsidiary. The policy does not apply to stock purchased in the open market prior to January 1, 2011, as is the case with Mr. Patrick Manning's shares.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance. Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company's officers and directors, and persons who own more than 10% of the Company's equity securities (insiders) to file with the SEC reports of beneficial ownership of those securities and certain changes in beneficial ownership on Forms 3, 4 and 5, and to give the Company a copy of those reports.

Based solely upon a review of Forms 3 and 4 and amendments to them furnished to the Company during 2011; any Forms 5 and amendments to them furnished to the Company relating to 2011; and any written representations that no Form 5 is required, all Section 16(a) filing requirements applicable to the Company's insiders were satisfied.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Executive Officers. The Company is required under applicable rules and regulations to furnish information about the compensation of any person who served as the Company's principal executive officer, or its principal financial officer during 2011 and its three most highly compensated executive officers (other than the principal executive officer and the principal financial officer) who were serving as executive officers at the end of 2011. These executive officers are named in the Summary Compensation Table for 2011, below, and are therefore sometimes referred to as the named executive officers. The named executive officers are as follows:

Patrick T. Manning	Chairman & Chief Executive Officer
Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	President & Chief Operating Officer, Treasurer
James H. Allen, Jr.	Chief Financial Officer (through May 31, 2011)
Joseph P. Harper, Jr.	Executive Vice President — Finance Chief Financial Officer (acting) (June 1 through November 27, 2011)
Elizabeth D. Brumley	Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer (since November 28, 2011) and Controller
Anthony F. Colombo	Executive Vice President — Operations
Brian R. Manning	Executive Vice President & Chief Business Development Officer

Summary of Executive Compensation for 2011. The following table shows the compensation paid to the named executive officers for 2011.

Name/Title	Base Salary ($)	Total Incentive Compensation ⁽¹⁾ ($)	Incentive Compensation Paid in Cash ($)	Incentive Compensation Paid in Restricted Stock (Shares)	Discretionary Bonus ($)
Patrick T. Manning	550,000	—	—	—	—

Anthony F. Colombo	360,000	—	—	—	—
Brian R. Manning	315,000	—	—	—	—

(1) Incentive compensation is based on the Company's net income and as a result of the loss in 2011, no incentive compensation was paid.

(2) Mr. Allen retired effective May 31, 2011. In connection with his retirement, the Company agreed to pay him during 2011 at the annual rate of $482,000 for the first five months of 2011.

Summary of the 2011 Employment Agreements. In 2011, the named executive officers were compensated under employment agreements that became effective on January 1, 2011 (except for Ms. Brumley's which became effective as of February 1, 2011). The agreements establish a base salary for the term of the agreement and provide for annual incentive compensation expressed as a percentage of an incentive compensation pool made up of four percent of the Company's income before income taxes and earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests (Defined Earnings) provided that a three-year average return on equity of at least five percent has been met. One-half of an executive's share of the incentive compensation pool is paid in the form of a three-year restricted stock award; up to 20% is paid in cash depending on the level of achievement of the executive's personal goals; and the remaining 30% is paid in cash without pre-conditions. All executive officers of the Company (including the named executive officers) are eligible to receive a bonus paid out of a discretionary bonus pool made up of one percent of Defined Earnings based on management's recommendations, but subject to the approval of the Compensation Committee.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis.

Introduction. This discussion and analysis of executive compensation is designed to show how the compensation of the named executive officers has been determined and why certain compensation decisions were made. This section also includes a discussion of the Company's compensation policies and practices as they relate to risk and risk-taking by all employees of the Company, including the named executive officers. That discussion is found below in the section entitled Compensation Policies and Practices — Risk Management.

At the 2011 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, the holders of 80% of the shares present in person or represented by proxy voted in accordance with the Company's recommendation to hold a say-on-pay vote annually, and the Company intends to do. Also at that meeting, 85% voted to approved the Company's executive compensation. Consequently, the Company does not intend to substantially change its compensation decisions and policies at the present time.

The compensation of the named executive officers is determined by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors (the Committee) which is composed of four independent directors of the Company.

Compensation Objectives. The Committee's compensation objectives for each of the named executive officers as well as for other management employees is —

- To provide the employee with a rate of pay for the work he or she does that is appropriate in comparison to similar companies in the industry and that is considered fair by the executive and the Company;
- To give the executive a significant incentive to make the Company financially successful; and
- To give the executive an incentive to remain with the Company.

Employment Agreements. The Committee believes that compensating an executive under a multi-year employment agreement has the benefit of assuring the executive of continuity, both as to his or her employment and amounts and elements of compensation. At the same time, a multi-year employment agreement gives the Company some assurance that the executive will remain with the Company for the duration of the agreement, and enables the Company to budget salary costs over the term of the agreement.

How the Terms of the Employment Agreements Were Determined.

Compensation Principles and Policies. In considering employment agreements for the period 2011 through 2013, members of the Committee revised some of their compensation principles reflected in prior agreements based on the experience with prior employment agreements and the changes in the economy, in particular in the construction industry. The significant changes made were as follows:

- The Base Deferred Salary of the prior agreements, which was based on a relatively easily achieved EBITDA target, was eliminated. The deferral of this portion of salary was originally designed to keep base salaries low and thereby conserve cash if financial results fell substantially short of expectations. Because the Company has grown substantially and currently has a strong cash position, it was deemed no longer necessary to have this kind of safety net for the Company. The deferred salary was added to base salary.
- Members noted that in the current economic climate it is difficult to predict city, county, state and federal funding of highway and infrastructure projects on which the Company's business depends. This in turn makes it difficult to establish a fair and reasonable annual earnings-per-share target, much less a long-term target on which to base incentive compensation as was done in the prior agreements. As a result, the Committee determined to base incentive compensation on a percentage of the Company's net income, but contingent on the Company maintaining at least a three-year average return on equity target, thereby making the annual incentive dependent to a certain extent on prior years' results.

- The Committee added a long-term element to incentive compensation, which had been absent in the prior agreements, by making a significant portion of any earned incentive compensation payable in the form of a three-year restricted stock award in order to encourage executives to take a long-range perspective in fulfilling their responsibilities.
- The Committee provided the executives with a change in control agreement providing for a severance payment, but only if the executive's employment is terminated without cause just prior to, or within two years after, the change in control. Members of the Committee believe that it is in the Company's best interests to provide executives with this level of financial assurance in order to preserve their neutrality in negotiating and implementing a transaction that would result in a change in control.

Incentive Compensation. Based on predetermined percentages for each of them, the named executive officers participate in an incentive compensation pool made up of four percent of the Company's income before income taxes and earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests. The size of the pool was designed to be an amount that would yield incentive compensation of an amount approximately equal to the incentive compensation the executives earned for 2010 under the prior agreements, as well as to be competitive with the Company's peer group, described below. The Committee concluded that this structure will have the effect of providing an incentive that rises and falls with the Company's financial results, assures a minimum return to stockholders before any incentive compensation is paid, but does not require making estimates of future results.

The Committee also established a discretionary bonus pool equal to one percent of the same adjusted income figure to be distributed based on management's recommendations but subject to approval by the Committee in order to be able to reward superior efforts or achievements.

Incentive Goals — Personal. As in the prior agreements, the executive is required to establish personal goals annually in advance that are approved by the Committee in consultation with the executive. The extent of the achievement of the goals is assessed after the end of the year by the officer to whom the executive reports and by the Committee, and in the case of the Chief Financial Officer, also by the Audit Committee.

Payment of Incentive Compensation. In order to align the incentives with the Committee's compensation principles described above, the executive's share of the incentive compensation pool is payable as follows:

- 50% in the form of a three-year restricted stock award;
- 20% based on the level of achievement of personal goals; and
- 30% in cash without pre-conditions.

Compensation Levels.

Compensation Consultant. The Committee retained Hay Group in mid-2010 to benchmark the compensation of the Company's named executive officers at that time as well as to make recommendations as to their compensation starting in 2011. In seeking a useful peer group, both management, the Committee and Hay Group recognized that there are few publicly-traded companies in the heavy civil construction business that are close to the Company's size. Most other publicly-traded heavy civil construction companies are much larger than the Company and are companies with which the Company almost never competes. Nevertheless, management and the Committee agreed on the following peer group in order to have a basis for comparison:

Argan, Inc.
Dycom Industries, Inc.
Granite Construction Incorporated
Great Lakes Dredge & Dock Corporation
Insituform Technologies, Inc.
Layne Christensen Company
MasTec, Inc.
Matrix Service Company

Orion Marine Group, Inc.
Preformed Line Products Company
Primoris Services Corporation
Pure Cycle Corporation
The Goldfield Corporation

Hay Group's analysis, which is based on multiple surveys, revealed that the executives' base salaries when compared to publicly-traded companies in the construction industry were between 117% and 122% of the median; their total cash compensation was between 80% and 94% of the median; and their total direct compensation was between 51% and 75% of the median. The total direct compensation comparison reflects the fact that under the agreements then in effect, the Company paid executives no long-term incentive compensation.

As noted above, Hay Group not only compared the named executive officers' compensation to the peer group, but at the Committee's request, also made recommendations on salary levels. Senior management also made compensation proposals for themselves and for each of the other named executive officers. After reviewing Hay Group's and management's recommendations and proposals, the Committee adopted base salaries that were in some cases less than Hay Group's recommended salaries and in some cases more than senior management's proposals. The resulting salaries represent approximately a five percent increase over the sum of the Base Payroll Salary and Base Deferred Salary of the prior employment agreements. The Committee considered this increase to be appropriate in light of the fact that the executives' salaries had not been increased since 2007, the first year of the prior employment agreements. In the case of Messrs. Anthony F. Colombo, Joseph P. Harper, Jr., and Brian R. Manning, $15,000 was added to their base salaries to compensate them for the elimination of full-time use of company vehicles or car allowances that they had been entitled to in prior years.

In addition to the other factors discussed above, members exercised their personal judgment based on their experience in business matters in making decisions regarding appropriate compensation and incentive levels.

Hay Group's Services. Hay Group was first retained in 2007 to provide benchmarking services to the Compensation Committee in connection with the 2007-2010 employment agreements. Because of that work, the Board's Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee retained Hay Group to do a similar analysis and report relating to the compensation of the Company's non-employee directors.

The Compensation Committee retained Hay Group again in 2010 because of their familiarity with the Company and the general satisfaction with their earlier work.

Hay Group has performed no other services of any kind for the Committee, the Board, or the Company. Hay Group's fees for services in 2007 for both the executive and the director compensation reports totaled $40,184 and for the 2010 report was $56,539.

Change in Control Agreements.

As noted above, the Committee decided to enter into change of control severance agreements with the named executive officers in order to provide them with a level of financial assurance, under certain circumstances, in the event of a change in control of the Company. This financial assurance is intended by the Committee to preserve the executive's neutrality in negotiating and implementing a transaction that would result in a change in control of the Company and that could result in the termination of his or her employment for no fault of their own. The change in control agreements have no fixed terms and are independent of the employment agreements except that severance that is payable under the change in control agreement is reduced by the amount of any severance payable under an employment agreement then in effect. The Committee believes that a change in control payment is only appropriate if the termination of the executive's employment is without cause or because of a breach by the Company of his or her employment agreement. The Committee did not want a change in control agreement to serve as an incentive to leave the Company's employ after a change in control.

The Committee believes that the amount of the change in control severance should not be so large as to be a windfall for the executive and/or a deterrent to a potential acquiror of the Company. The Committee determined that an appropriate severance amount is three times base salary together with the vesting of any restricted stock then held by the executive. The severance amount is substantially below the maximum that is payable without incurring punitive tax consequences under the Internal Revenue Code, and is substantially below what other companies provide. The Committee understands that some of the compensation payable to certain executives under the change-in-control agreements may not be deductible under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Compensation Policies and Practices — Risk Management.

This section describes the Company's risks that have the potential to be affected by the Company's compensation policies and practices applicable to all employees, and in particular, by its incentive compensation arrangements.

Background. In the first quarter of 2012, the Compensation Committee reviewed its former assessment of compensation-related risks, noting that while the Company's over-all compensation structure for 2011 had not changed substantially, the compensation of the named executive officers had changed, as described above. Compared to other businesses, the Company's business risks that are likely to be affected by compensation policies and practices are relatively straight forward. Consequently, as in the past, the Committee elected not to hire an outside adviser in undertaking its review.

The Committee reviewed each element of employee compensation that is designed to provide an incentive to the employee to do his or her best work for the Company. The Committee then discussed the extent to which, if at all, the employee would be able to manipulate the Company's records or financial statements to artificially achieve or contribute to the achievement of that incentive. Committee members then determined whether in their judgment, the risk of such manipulation is material.

As a general matter, the Company's policy with respect to incentive compensation, as opposed to regular wages and salary, is to encourage behavior that will benefit and improve the Company's financial results and financial condition and thereby benefit its shareholders. Because regular wages and salary are paid periodically, because they are considered to be competitive, and because they are not paid for the achievement of a specific goal, they do not by themselves affect risk-taking.

After the Committee's review, it is the belief of members that the Company's compensation policies and practices are not reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the Company. The basis for this belief is discussed below.

The Company's Risks. Many of the risks that the Company faces are outside the control of management, such as economic and weather conditions; the failure of government agencies to let construction contracts or the cancellation of contracts already let; local, state and federal funding of infrastructure construction and repairs; actions of suppliers; terrorist attacks, and the like. For a full description of the Company's significant risk factors, see Item 1A. Risk Factors in the Company's 2011 Annual Report on Form 10-K, which is available with this Proxy Statement.

The Company's other major risks can be grouped into four general categories:

- Bidding on and performing civil construction projects in which the contract for the project is awarded to the lowest bidder. In low-bid contracts, the prime risk is a failure to accurately estimate the overall risks, requirements and costs involved in the project. If the Company bids too high it will not win the contract; if it bids too low and wins the contract, lower profits than anticipated or a loss can result.
- Design-build, CM/GC (construction manager/general contractor) and other alternative project delivery methods. These projects are ones in which winning the contract depends not only on the bid price, but also on reputation, marketing efforts, quality of design, and the minimization of public inconvenience. Projects of this kind are often bid and performed by joint ventures in which the Company is only one of two or more participants. This means that the Company is subject not only to the risk of making an inaccurate bid, but also to the additional risk of design errors by the design/engineering firm, as well as liability for the entire contract if other participants in the joint venture fail to carry out their portions of the contract, or fail to do so in conformity with the contract.
- The Company's strategy of expanding its market, opportunities, competencies and geographic diversification organically and through acquisitions. Growth can require the investment of significant capital, and in the case of an acquisition, if the negotiation of the purchase agreement and the subsequent integration of the acquired entity are not successfully performed, significant losses can result.

- The percentage-of-completion accounting and revenue recognition rules under which the Company is required to prepare its financial statements. Percentage-of-completion accounting requires management to make quarterly and annual estimates of the cost of completing projects that are on going at the date of the financial statements. These estimates directly affect reported profits, and profits are the basis for the award of much of the Company's incentive compensation.

Incentive Compensation and Risk.

Employees Without Employment Agreements. The Company compensates its direct labor and clerical staff on an hourly basis; the rest of its employees are paid a salary. All of these employees are eligible to earn bonuses. Bonuses are paid in cash and are based on an employee's job performance in his or her area of responsibility. For example, the bonuses of project managers are based on the gross profit of the project and the level of competency with which it is administered, including things such as the timeliness of invoice submissions and job-cost estimates and updates. These jobs by their very nature are not ones that require risk-taking for the employee to be successful; rather they require attention to detail and the avoidance and minimization of risk. Although bonuses for these employees are generally not promised or quantified in advance, the Committee believes that the tradition of paying bonuses encourages employees to be careful and diligent in their job performance. Project managers' estimates of the cost to complete their contracts are reviewed by senior managers, and from year to year are compared to prior year's actual results. In this way, senior management can determine whether a project manager's estimates are generally accurate. A material variance between estimates and actual results can lead to termination of employment.

Employees with Employment Agreements. The Company compensates certain of its officers and certain operating officers in charge of its geographical offices under the terms of written employment agreements. When these employment agreements come up for renewal, the Committee considers whether and to what extent the incentives in those agreements continue to meet the Company's incentive and risk management objectives. In the Nevada office, incentive pay for senior officers is in the discretion of the Company's President and is based generally on the extent to which elements of the agreed-upon budget for the year have or have not been achieved or exceeded. Incentive pay for senior officers of the Utah office is based on the achievement of the office's budgeted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA. The Committee believes that EBITDA is a good measure of operating performance because it is EBITDA on which operating personnel have the most direct effect. EBITDA for a given year is derived from the budget, which represents the best estimate of results for the following year as determined jointly by senior management of the office and the Company. Therefore, while budgets may reflect an optimistic assessment of the future, by their nature, they should not require extreme effort to achieve. In addition, excessive risk-taking could directly and adversely affect EBITDA and therefore the officer's incentive compensation.

The incentive compensation of the named executive officers is also established by employment agreements. As noted above, under their current agreements, incentive compensation is based on net earnings, not earnings per share as in prior agreements, but the Committee does not believe that this changes the level of risk.

The Committee believes that the Company's incentive goals do not create or encourage excessive risk-taking for the following reasons.

- The bid preparation process, whether for a low-bid contract or a design-build contract requires careful, meticulous and diligent estimation and calculation of all aspects of the project.
- The estimates required for percentage cost-of-completion accounting are subject to review, verification and audit.
- The incentive compensation for the named executive officers is based on net income, with no floor and no cap, which avoids an all-or-nothing approach to incentive compensation that can have the effect of encouraging excessive risk-taking.
- No extreme effort or risk-taking by executive officers will necessarily result in a large increase in net income.
- No incentive pay is awarded for completing a single task, such as winning a contract, making a capital investment or completing an acquisition. The officer only benefits if the contract, investment or acquisition is profitable and thereby contributes to the financial success of the Company. This avoids creating an incentive to achieve short-term results at the expense of longer-term results.

The Committee has determined that cost-of-completion accounting is the most likely to encourage manipulation of financial results and therefore deserves further discussion of the monitoring and mitigation of the risk. In the course of its annual audits, the Company's outside auditor reviews the current year's cost-to-complete estimates and compares them to actual, prior-year results, so that over a period of several years, any manipulation of results would become evident. In addition, since most of the Company's large projects are performed over the course of more than one calendar year, an under-estimate of the cost-to-complete in order to inflate profits in one year would have the effect of reducing profits in the following year. In addition, members of senior management of the Company hold a significant number of shares of the Company's common stock, so that any potential incentive to manipulate short-term results is offset by the knowledge that to do so could have long-term, adverse consequences and a negative effect on the value of their own shares of the Company's common stock. The Committee has formed a judgment that the integrity of the members of senior management, who have been with the Company for an average of 23 years, is the most valuable element in mitigating this risk. Finally, the Company's policy on so-called claw-backs requires a repayment of any over-payment of incentive compensation that was based on financial statements that are subsequently restated, whether or not the employee was culpable with respect to the error, event, act or omission that caused the restatement to be made.

Equity Compensation. In the past, the Company awarded options to a wide variety of employees that vest over a number of years in order to give them a long-term perspective on the success of the Company. More recently, for the same purpose, the Company has awarded vice-president-level officers of the Company's geographical offices shares of common stock that may not be sold or transferred for five years and that are subject to forfeiture under certain circumstances, such as termination of employment for cause or resignation. As noted above, in the current employment agreements of the named executive officers, one-half of any incentive compensation will be paid in the form of three-year restricted stock awards.

The Committee monitors compensation-related risks annually when year-end financial results are available and the achievement of personal goals is assessed. Since senior officers' employment agreements have traditionally had three-year terms, the Committee is also able periodically to determine whether the Company's incentive programs are achieving the desired results and to make changes if they are not.

Employment Agreements of the Named Executive Officers.

As already noted, the incentive compensation of named executive officers is expressed as a percentage of an incentive compensation pool consisting of four percent of the Company's income before income taxes and earnings attributable to non-controlling interests, provided that a minimum average three-year return on equity target (5%) is maintained. The following table shows the material financial features of the employment agreements of each named executive officer.

Name	Annual Salary ($)	Percentage of Annual Incentive Pool ⁽¹⁾ (%)
Patrick T. Manning	550,000	22.5
Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	525,000	22.0
James H. Allen, Jr. ⁽²⁾	482,000	—
Joseph P. Harper, Jr.	315,000	16.5
Elizabeth D. Brumley	315,000	⁽³⁾
Anthony F. Colombo	360,000	16.5
Brian R. Manning	315,000	16.5

- (1) Incentive compensation is payable 50% in the form of three-year restricted stock awards, up to 20% in cash based on the level of achievement of personal goals, and 30% in cash without pre-conditions.
- (2) Mr. Allen retired effective May 31, 2011. In connection with his retirement, the Committee agreed to pay him during 2011 at the rate of the annual salary indicated above for the first five months of 2011. In June 2011, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with Mr. Allen to assist the Company in making the transition to his replacement.
- (3) Ms. Brumley is eligible to earn the same dollar amount of incentive compensation as Messrs. Harper, Jr., Colombo and Brian Manning.

Potential Payments upon Termination or Change-in-Control.

The following table describes the payments and other obligations of the Company under the employment agreements and change of control agreements of the named executive officers at, following, or in connection with, any termination of employment or change in control of the Company.

In every instance of termination, the Company is required to pay the executive any accrued but unpaid salary through the date of termination and any other legally-required payments through that date.

After termination of employment, irrespective of the reason for termination, each of the named executive officers is prohibited from competing with the Company or soliciting its employees or customers for a period of twelve months or for the post-employment period, if any, for which the executive is entitled to be paid salary, whichever period is longer.

The table also shows the estimated cost to the Company had the executive's employment terminated on December 31, 2011. The employment agreements of the named executive officers expire on December 31, 2013 except for Joseph P. Harper, Sr.'s employment agreement, which expires on December 31, 2012.

Event	Payment and/or Other Obligations ⁽¹⁾
1. Termination—	In either event, the Company is obligated —
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • By the Company without cause. ⁽²⁾ • Involuntary resignation ⁽²⁾ by the executive. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A. To pay the executive his or her base salary in a lump sum for the balance of the term of the employment agreement or for one year, whichever period is longer; B. To continue to cover the executive under the Company's medical and dental plans provided the executive reimburses the Company the COBRA cost thereof, in which event, the Company must reimburse the amount of the COBRA payments to the executive; and C. To pay the executive any incentive compensation that would have been earned had the executive remained an employee of the Company through the end of the calendar year in which his or her employment terminated, and to pay in cash any incentive compensation otherwise payable in restricted stock.
Estimated December 31, 2011 termination payments:	Under A and B, above, the executive would be entitled to the amounts set forth below. Under C, the executive would be entitled to his or her 2011 incentive compensation, to the extent earned, irrespective of termination.
Mr. Patrick T. Manning	$1,100,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a two-year period, at a cost of approximately $36,653.
Mr. Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	$525,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a one-year period, at a cost of approximately $12,027.
Mr. James H. Allen, Jr.	N/A (Mr. Allen retired at the end of May 2011)
Mr. Joseph P. Harper, Jr.	$630,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a two-year period, at a cost of approximately $36,653.
Ms. Brumley	$630,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a two-year period, at a cost of approximately $20,617.

Event	Payment and/or Other Obligations ⁽¹⁾
Mr. Colombo	$720,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a two-year period, at a cost of approximately $11,454.
Mr. Brian R. Manning	$630,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a two-year period, at a cost of approximately $36,653.
2. Termination by reason of the executive's death or permanent disability.	The Company is obligated to pay the executive or his or her personal representative, as the case may be, a portion of any incentive compensation that would have been earned had the executive remained an employee of the Company through the end of the calendar year in which employment terminated, based on the number of days during the year that the executive was an employee of the Company, and to pay in cash any incentive compensation otherwise payable in shares of restricted stock.
Estimated December 31, 2011 termination payments:	None. The executive would be entitled to his or her 2011 incentive compensation, to the extent earned, irrespective of termination.
3. Termination by the Company for cause: ⁽³⁾	All of the executive's stock options terminate.
Estimated December 31, 2011 termination payments:	None.
4. Voluntary resignation by the executive:	If the resignation occurs during a calendar year, the Company is not obligated to pay the executive any incentive or other compensation. If the resignation occurs at or after the end of a calendar year, the Company is obligated to pay the executive any earned incentive compensation for such year.
Estimated December 31, 2011 termination payments:	None. The executive would be entitled to his or her 2011 incentive compensation, to the extent earned, irrespective of the resignation.
5. Change-in-control termination without cause or because of a breach by the Company of the executive's employment agreement within a period commencing one month before and ending two years after a change in control of the Company.	Under a change of control agreement, each named executive officer is entitled to an amount payable in a lump sum equal to three times salary, less any severance payable under any employment agreement then in effect. In addition, un-exercisable but in-the-money stock options become exercisable in full.
Estimated December 31, 2011 termination payments:	The lump sum amounts payable are set forth below. They reflect the lump sum equal to three times salary reduced by the lump sum equal to two times salary payable under the executives' employment agreements, except for Joseph P. Harper, Sr., for whom the lump sum equal to three times salary is reduced by only one times salary because his employment agreement expires at the end of 2012. No cost would be incurred by the Company as a result of the acceleration of vesting provision because all of the outstanding stock options of the named executive officers who hold stock options were already vested (exercisable) in full at December 31, 2011.
Mr. Patrick T. Manning	$550,000.
Mr. Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	$1,050,000
Mr. Allen	N/A (Mr. Allen retired at the end of May 2011)
Mr. Joseph P. Harper, Jr.	$315,000
Ms. Brumley	$315,000
Mr. Colombo	$360,000
Mr. Brian R. Manning	$315,000

(1) The executives' salary and eligibility for incentive compensation are set forth above in the section entitled Employment Agreements of the Named Executive Officers. For the amount of any incentive compensation paid to the named executive officers for 2011, see the section entitled Summary Compensation Table for 2011, below.

- (2) A termination without cause is a termination for any reason other than for cause, permanent disability, death or voluntary resignation.

The executive is entitled to "involuntarily" resign in the event that the Company commits a material breach of a material provision of the employment agreement and fails to cure the breach within thirty days, or, if the nature of the breach is one that cannot practicably be cured in thirty days, if the Company fails to diligently and in good faith commence a cure of the breach within the thirty-day period.

- (3) The term "cause" is defined in the named executive officers' employment agreements and means what is commonly referred to as cause in employment matters, such as gross negligence, dishonesty, insubordination, inadequate performance of responsibilities after notice and the like.

Summary Compensation Table for 2011.

The following table sets forth all compensation awarded to, earned by, or paid to the following executive officers for 2011:

- Patrick T. Manning, the Company's principal executive officer.
- James H. Allen, Jr., the Company's principal financial officer from January through May, 2011, when he retired.
- Joseph P. Harper, Jr., the Company's acting principal financial officer from June through November, 27, 2011.
- Elizabeth D. Brumley, the Company's principal financial officer since November 28, 2011.
- The Company's three most highly compensated executive officers (other than the officers listed above) who were serving at the end of 2011.

The Company pays compensation to these executive officers according to the terms of their employment agreements. The Company does not pay any additional compensation to any executive officer for serving on the Board. The amounts include any compensation that was deferred by the executive through contributions to his or her defined contribution plan account under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. All dollar amounts are rounded to the nearest dollar.

Grants of Plan-Based Awards for 2011.

Executive Incentive Compensation Pool. As described above in the section entitled Employment Agreements of the Named Executive Officers, the executives' employment agreements provide each executive the ability to earn incentive compensation annually. The incentive compensation is expressed as a percentage of an incentive compensation pool equal to four percent of the Company's income before income taxes (i) reduced for earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests; and (ii) after adding back any accrual of the incentive compensation itself to avoid circular calculations. This adjusted net income amount is referred to in the executives' employment agreements as Defined Earnings. Each executive's percentage share of the pool is set forth in a table above in the section entitled Employment Agreements of the Named Executive Officers. No incentive compensation is paid for a given year if there are no Defined Earnings. In addition, no incentive compensation is paid if at the end of a given year, the Company's average return on equity for the previous three years is less than five percent.

In 2011, the Company had a loss and consequently had no Defined Earnings. Therefore, no incentive compensation was paid to the named executive officers.

Discretionary Bonus Pool. The Company has also established a discretionary bonus pool in an amount equal to one percent of Defined Earnings. The Compensation Committee of the Board has the discretion to award amounts from this bonus pool to any of the executive officers of the Company, including the named executive officers, based on senior management's recommendations. The entire discretionary bonus pool can be awarded to some or all of the named executive officers, to one named executive officer alone, or to executive officers who are not named executive officers. Discretionary bonuses, if any, are paid in cash.

For the same reason that no incentive compensation was paid, no discretionary awards were made for 2011.

Option Exercises and Stock Vested for 2011.

The following table contains information on an aggregated basis about each exercise of a stock option during 2011 by each of the named executive officers.

Name	Option Awards
	Number of Shares Acquired on Exercise (#)	Value Realized on Exercise ⁽¹⁾ ($)

Brian R. Manning	2,000	23,700

(1) SEC regulations define the "Value Realized on Exercise" as the difference between the market price of the shares on the date of the option exercise (purchase), and the option exercise price of the shares, whether or not the shares are sold subsequent to the exercise, or if they are sold, whether or not the sale occurred on the same date as the exercise.

Outstanding Equity Awards at December 31, 2011.

The following table shows certain information concerning un-exercised stock options that were outstanding on December 31, 2011 for each named executive officer. No other equity awards have been made to the named executive officers.

Vesting of Stock Options. If there is a change in control of the Company, all the stock options then held by a named executive officer become exercisable in full; however, as indicated in the table above, all of the outstanding options are already exercisable in full. The options listed above have vested as follows:

- (1) This option vested in equal installments on the first three anniversaries of its grant date.
- (2) This option vested in equal installments on the first five anniversaries of its grant date.

Equity Compensation Plan Information. The following table contains information at December 31, 2011 about compensation plans (including individual compensation arrangements) under which the Company has authorized the issuance of equity securities.

Equity compensation plans not approved by security holders:	—	—	—

- (1) The Company has only one outstanding compensation plan under which the Company has authorized the issuance of equity securities, the Stock Incentive Plan. That plan and subsequent amendments to it have been approved by stockholders other than the amendment which is the subject of Proposal 2. The plan would have expired on July 23, 2011 had the Board of Directors not amended the plan, among other things, to extend its term for an additional ten years. The amendment and restatement of the plan is the subject of Proposal 2 and is described in detail above under the heading Amendment and Restatement of the Company's Stock Incentive Plan (Proposal 2).

PERFORMANCE GRAPH.

The following graph compares the percentage change in the Company's cumulative total stockholder return on its common stock for the last five years with the Dow Jones US Index, a broad market index, and the Dow Jones US Heavy Construction Index, a group of companies whose marketing strategy is focused on a limited product line, such as civil construction. Both indices are published in The Wall Street Journal.

The returns are calculated assuming that an investment with a value of $100 was made in the Company's common stock and in each index at the end of 2006, and that all dividends were reinvested in additional shares of common stock, although the Company has paid no dividends during the periods shown. The graph lines merely connect the measuring dates and do not reflect fluctuations between those dates. The stock performance shown on the graph is not intended to be indicative of future stock performance.

BUSINESS RELATIONSHIPS WITH DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS.

Transactions with Related Persons. This section describes transactions since the beginning of 2011 and currently proposed transactions in which the Company or its affiliates was or is to be a participant, and in which any related person had or will have a direct or indirect material interest.

Joseph P. Harper, Jr. During 2011, Joseph P. Harper, Jr. was Executive Vice President — Finance and from June 1 through November 27, 2011 he was acting Chief Financial Officer of the Company. He was also Vice President & Chief Financial Officer of the Company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Texas Sterling Construction Co. (TSC). He is the son of Joseph P. Harper, Sr., who is President & Chief Operating Officer and Treasurer of the Company. For 2011, the Company paid Mr. Harper Jr. under his employment agreement a salary of $315,000 and made the contributions to his 401(k) plan, noted above.

Kip L. Wadsworth. Mr. Wadsworth is a director of the Company and Chief Executive Officer of Ralph L. Wadsworth Construction Company, LLC (RLW) in which the Company acquired an 80% interest in late 2009. Mr. Wadsworth retained a 5.65% membership interest in RLW, which together with the interests retained by his three brothers, Con, Tod and Ty Wadsworth, can be sold by them to the Company, and which the Company has a right to buy from them, in both cases, in the year 2013. For 2011, RLW paid Mr. Wadsworth, as Chief Executive Officer of RLW, cash compensation of $656,803, which is made up of his $244,000 salary and his cash incentive compensation of $412,803 under the terms of his employment agreement with RLW that was negotiated in connection with the acquisition. Pursuant to that employment agreement, the Company issued to Mr. Wadsworth as additional incentive compensation 2,515 shares of the Company's common stock with a value of $24,400 on the date of the award that are restricted from sale or other disposition until December 31, 2012.

Mr. Wadsworth and some of his immediate family members are part owners of the following companies with which RLW had a business relationship in 2011. Their ownership interests are shown in the table below.

- Wadsworth Development Group, LLC (WDG). In 2011, as part of a monthly service agreement, RLW provided WDG with office supplies, payroll services, computers, IT services, telephone service and the like on a monthly basis for a total billing to WDG in 2011 of $615,000.
- Wadsworth Corporate Center Building A, LLC (WCC), Wadsworth Dannon Way, LLC (WDW) and Wadsworth & Sons III (W&S3). In 2011, RLW leased —
 - its primary office space from WCC at an annual average rent of $228,462 plus common area maintenance charges of $80,776;
 - a facility for RLW's equipment maintenance shop from WDW at an annual rent of $178,333 plus common area maintenance charges of $71,675; and
 - a facility from W&S3 to provide temporary living quarters for field employees at an annual rent of $47,104.

The WCC and WDW leases expire in 2022 and the W&S3 lease expires in 2014.

- Riverwalk Investments, LLC (RWI). In 2011, RLW engaged in contracts to develop RWI site improvements and to build out four of RWI's tenant spaces for a total price of $597,692.
- Wadsworth & Sons LLC (W&S). W&S is an indemnitor of surety bonds issued to Cal Wadsworth Construction Company, which is owned by Kip Wadsworth's brother, Cal Wadsworth. The potential indemnification exposure to W&S for bonds issued on uncompleted Cal Wadsworth Construction projects is estimated to be less than $1 million.
- Big Sky, LLC. Big Sky, LLC is an entity owned and managed by W&S3. Big Sky owns a plane that RLW rented in 2011 for certain business travel of its employees, including Mr. Wadsworth, and for which RLW paid Big Sky rental fees and expenses totaling $72,259.
- Renewable Energy Development Corporation (REDCO.) REDCO is a privately-held renewable energy development company for which RLW performed construction services. During 2011, REDCO filed for bankruptcy protection and as a result, RLW wrote off a $23,838 account receivable.

During 2011, Ralph L. Wadsworth, Kip Wadsworth's father and the founder of RLW, provided engineering consulting services to two of RLW's projects for which RLW paid a total of $23,500. Kip Wadsworth is a brother of Guy Wadsworth, who is the owner of Wadsworth Brothers Construction Company. Wadsworth Brothers Construction Company and RLW are both 12.5% members of a $1.1 billion joint venture with Fluor Corporation and Ames Construction, Inc. on a construction project covering 23 miles of Interstate Highway 15 in Utah.

Policies and Procedures for the Review, Approval or Ratification of Transactions with Related Persons.

General. The Board's policy on transactions between the Company and related persons is set forth in the written charter of the Audit Committee. The policy requires that the Audit Committee must review in advance the terms of any transaction between the Company (including its subsidiaries) and a director, executive officer, nominee for election as a director, or stockholder; and any of their affiliates or immediate family members that involves more than $100,000. If the Audit Committee approves the transaction, it must do so in compliance with Delaware law and report it to the full Board.

Joseph P. Harper, Jr. The Compensation Committee determines Joseph P. Harper, Jr.'s salary and incentive compensation through his employment agreement with the Company. Neither Patrick T. Manning, Joseph P. Harper, Sr. nor Joseph P. Harper, Jr. is a member of the Compensation Committee, which is made up entirely of independent directors.

Kip L. Wadsworth. As part of its due diligence review prior to the acquisition of its 80% interest in RLW, the Company reviewed the relationships and transactions between RLW, Mr. Wadsworth and Mr. Wadsworth's family members, and concluded that the prices being charged to RLW or by RLW, as the case may be, are competitive and no less favorable to RLW than could be obtained from unrelated third parties. Any new transaction will be taken under consideration in advance by the Audit Committee and will be reviewed by an independent audit firm retained by the Audit Committee to ensure, among other considerations, that it is in compliance with Delaware law and is likewise on terms that are no less favorable to the Company than could be obtained from unrelated third parties.

INFORMATION ABOUT AUDIT FEES AND AUDIT SERVICES

A representative of the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, Grant Thornton LLP, is expected to be available at the Annual Meeting and will have the opportunity to make a statement, if he or she wishes, and to respond to appropriate questions from stockholders.

The following table sets forth the aggregate fees that Grant Thornton billed to the Company for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010.

Fee Category	2011	Percentage Approved by the Audit Committee	2010	Percentage Approved by the Audit Committee
Audit Fees:	648,143	100%	578,000	100%
Audit-Related Fees:	—	N/A	—	N/A
Tax Fees:	—	N/A	—	N/A
All Other Fees:	1,200	100%	2,000	100%

Audit Fees.

In 2011 and 2010, audit fees included the fees and expenses for Grant Thornton's audit of the consolidated financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for those years; the reviews of the consolidated financial statements included in the Company's quarterly reports on Form 10-Q; the resolution of issues that arose during the audit process; attestation work required by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002; and other audit services that are normally provided in connection with statutory and regulatory filings.

Of the audit fees for 2011 reflected in the above table, $418,533 had been billed by December 31, 2011.

Of the audit fees for 2010 reflected in the above table, $302,000 had been billed by December 31, 2010.

Audit-Related Fees. In 2011 and 2010, the Company incurred no fees in this category.

Tax Fees. The Company's independent registered public accounting firm occasionally provides tax consulting services to the Company. No fees for such services were incurred in 2011 or 2010.

All Other Fees. In 2011 and 2010, these fees consisted primarily of consultation with Grant Thornton on various tax issues related to new jurisdictions in which the Company operates.

Procedures for Approval of Services.

All requests for services that are to be provided by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, which must include a detailed description of the services to be rendered and the amount of corresponding estimated fees, are submitted to both the Company's Chief Financial Officer and the Chairman of the Audit Committee. The Chief Financial Officer authorizes services that have been approved by the Audit Committee within pre-set limits. If there is any question as to whether a proposed service fits within an approved service, the Chairman of the Audit Committee is consulted for a determination. The Chief Financial Officer submits to the Audit Committee any requests for services that have not already been approved by the Audit Committee. The request must include an affirmation by the Chief Financial Officer and the independent registered public accounting firm that the request is consistent with the SEC's rules on auditor independence.

SUBMISSION OF STOCKHOLDER PROPOSALS

Any proposal that a stockholder intends to present at the 2013 Annual Meeting of Stockholders must be submitted to the Secretary of the Company no later than December 31, 2012 in order to be considered timely received.

By Order of the Board of Directors
